

March 17, 2020
21 Adar, 5780

Dear TanenbaumCHAT Community,

I hope you and your families are well and that everyone is doing their part to assist with containment of the virus. Please continue to listen to directives from the various public health agencies, particularly with regard to social gatherings and social distancing. During these uncertain times we are a strength to each other and are demonstrating our ability to cope together.

Today dozens of classes launched online. In my own home, each of my 4 children were online with their own classes throughout the day. It is different to say the least, but each was engaged and working, and seemed to be enjoying themselves. I am incredibly impressed by the creativity, dedication, resourcefulness and open mindedness of our staff and students as we learn to make the most of this situation. I have already heard about many successful classes, a parent-student shiur (class) and virtual spirit days, and even a cooking class in the works. There will no doubt be glitches, but remarkable things are already happening. Please continue to check Edsby and email regularly for updates regarding individual classes.

At the same time, I want to make sure that everyone is finding time to take care of their own mental and physical health. It is important to find some time for fresh air, to get some exercise, eat properly and check on one another.

Please click HERE to access our dedicated web page that will continue to be populated with useful links.

Thank you for your continued support and cooperation.

Jonathan Levy, Ph.D.
Head of School